EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT PLAN TO GO ON BALLOT APRIL 9

Final Action to be Taken Next Meeting

At the adjourned meeting of the City Council Tuesday evening it was decided to place the State Employees Retirement plan on the ballot at the April 9 city election but further study will be made and final action taken at the next Council meeting next Tuesday evening.

Ralph Kruger, City Clerk of Santa Monica, will be present to address representatives of the Press, Chamber of Commerce, Taxpayers' Association and heads of the various city departments. He will explain the retirement system, ways and means of financing it, etc.

The Council met informally with the Planning Commission and Earl Esse of the County Regional Planning Commission to discuss ordinances governing subdivisions which are effective in other cities to control divisions of lands which are smaller than the properties normally controlled by regular subdivision laws.

The Council has allocated $100 to the Recreation Commission to carry on the work until April 1, when the Commission will submit a survey of recreation costs for 1946-47 for the purpose of having the appropriation included in next year's budget.

The city has agreed to furnish labor and place a light over a stairway on Holly Trail if the interested property owners will furnish the material for the stairway.

City Attorney Walter Dunn has been instructed to draw up an agreement between the city and the Guarantee Neon Co. to service the neon signs at the Foothill Blvd. entrances to the city at a cost of $15 a month. The agreement will make provision for vandalism.

James W. Innes has been appointed special police officer and caretaker of the City Hall, succeeding Arthur Johnson who resigned, having taken a position which will make it impossible to continue in the work.

Wistaria Queen Will be Chosen

Announcement is made that a Wistaria Queen and her Court will again be selected this year for the Wistaria Fete.

Mrs. Fred H. Morgan, chairman of the ways and means committee of the Sierra Madre Woman's club, is the chairman of the entry committee to select the Queen and her Princesses for 1946. Mrs. Morgan will appoint a committee to work with her in this capacity in the near future.

Speaker Stresses Living GI Memorials

The Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday was an inter-club meeting presided over jointly by President Robert Kenny of the East Pasadena club and President Korsmeier of our local club. The inter-club chairmen of the day were Warren Johnson of East Pasadena and Eugene Lunsford of Sierra Madre. The East Pasadena club furnished the program, on which Fleetwood Jefferson gave two vocal selections.

The speaker of the day was Rube Samuelson, sports editor of the Pasadena Star-News and member of the Southern California committee to promote living memorials to our G.I's, of which Sam Hays is chairman. Mr. Samuelson gave an informal talk on sports, highlighting the rehabilitation of the returned servicemen, both able-bodied and physically handicapped. He also stressed the need for living memorials. It was a very "live" meeting, being attended by approximately 65 members from the two clubs.

The program for the February 26 meeting will be on the Red Cross.

To the People of Sierra Madre:

For several reasons, including the important one, that if re-elected, I could not afford to give the time required to do what I believe to be even the minimum job that members of the City Council will have to face, and with heartfelt appreciation of the support and confidence given me during my terms on the City Council, I will not be a candidate for re-election to that body.

The City of Sierra Madre faces what is probably one of its most important elections in years, one in which the results will determine whether every possible effort is made to annex the Hastings Ranch, or whether this very important and last possible extension of our boundaries and the spreading of our tax load is to go by the board.

I believe that substantial expenditures for the best engineering advice obtainable should be made now.

Between 1938 and the beginning of the war, the City accumulated a reserve of approximately $45,000 and at the time did a great amount of street paving, etc. There had also been accumulated about $35,000 in State Gas Tax monies to properly drain, regrade and repave the downtown area, (on Baldwin, from Highland Ave. to Sierra Madre Blvd. and on Sierra Madre Blvd. from Baldwin to Auburn Ave.)

Since the war began, practicalry no new work could be done and a great deal of actual maintenance was necessarily put off. This has meant the further accumulation of funds until at the present time the City has in unbudgeted funds $53,000 in war bonds; $15,000 in water department; $5000 in County allocation of Gas Tax; $45,700 in State Gas Tax, and $4000 in Street Improvement. A total of $122,700. A large portion of this represents deferred maintenance and the water superintendent reports that over 14,600 feet of water mains need immediate replacement. Provision for a pump to work the well drilled in 1942 should be made to prevent the well from deteriorating.

Approximately $41,000 additional will be available from the State for public works in cities, and may be used to help in the very important sewage problem. Engineering and planning should be commenced now. A long range and comprehensive street paving program is immediately necessary and the street lighting situation needs study and improvement.

Some expensive equipment is either housed in fire traps or not housed at all at the water plant and some type of fireproof housing should be undertaken as soon as possible.

The recreation problem, the Planning Commission problems and Fire and Police departments all need close Council attention.

These problems, together with many others, are going to be answered either in the affirmative or negative or allowed to die by default, by the new City Council in the next few years, many of them, necessarily at once.

The majority of the Council will be before the voters in the April election. The voters must decide who this majority will be and indirectly, how and when the answers to these problems will be worked out. Surely the people of Sierra Madre will not pass up their decision by default and non-action.

Let's get good candidates, elect them and then support them. We cannot do less.

THOS. M. SCHWARTZ.

Kiwanis to Feature Red Cross Program

The Kiwanis luncheon meeting of next Tuesday, February 26, will be devoted to the Red Cross. The Sierra Madre Chapter has been fortunate in securing a March of Time film, "The Job Ahead, 1946." The film features Red Cross work all around the world in the wake of war. It pictures Red Cross medical, social and other work in Army, Navy and Veteran hospitals in this country, Red Cross recreation clubs in Japan, Germany and the Philippines, Red Cross help for the tragically needy in Europe, and Red Cross growing responsibilities at home.

Red Cross captains have been invited to join Kiwanians at this luncheon meeting. Captains serving this year include: Mrs. W. A. Goodwin, Mrs. J. Jack Butler, Mrs. F. A. Spencer, Mrs. Wm. Burr, Mrs. John C. James, Mrs. Wm. B. Wilcox, Mrs. Joseph Worthington, Mrs. C. L. Maltby, Mrs. G. G. McMillan, Mrs. Emory Diemer. Judge Noren Eaton will be chairman of the day.

Legion Auxiliary Celebrates Birthday

A hilarious time was enjoyed by Legion Auxiliary members at their 21st birthday anniversary party held Thursday night at the home of Past President Orcelia Stinman in Pasadena. One would have thought from the antics that the members themselves had just come of age instead of the Unit. Past presidents were honor guests and those present were Mesdames Ora Olsen, Lucille Pickett, Maybelle Barker, Leila Embree, Orcelia Stinman, Bertha Irvine and Miss Minnie Stinman. Lucille Pickett and Orcelia Stinman served their Unit for two-year periods.

Past presidents were called on to tell of outstanding events during their terms. Serious experiences such as the Long Beach earthquake and Montrose flood were among those related. A regular business session preceded the party. The Unit voted to give prizes of $3, $2, and $1 in the coming American essay contest in which the Sierra Madre schools are participating.

Leila Embree conducted a very lovely memorial service for our departed Department Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Ethel Flynn, who passed away on the train en route from the National convention. Mrs. Flynn had served the Department of California for 20 years as Secretary and will be greatly missed. A welcomed guest was Mrs. Esther Westover, ex-service woman from Nebraska, who is wintering in Sierra Madre.

The party was followed by a delicious buffet supper served from a table decorated with Valentine motifs, a huge birthday cake gracing the center of the table. Our next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bruce McGill, 506 W. Grand View, Thursday evening, February 28, at 8 o'clock.

Y.M.C.A. Basketball Tournament Thursday

Another series of the weekly games in the Y.M.C.A. sponsored basketball tournament was played at the Sierra Madre school Thursday. Leon Joplin's team won from Bunny Gillett's, 26 to 18 and Tom Henze's team beat Willie Annas' team, 36 to 33. High scoring team was composed of: Tom Henze, Donald Newman, Arthur Flores, Richard Cerrillo, John Woehler, Robert Perry, Donald Smith, Edwin Jacobson, LeRoy Jarvis. Second team was Willie Annas, Jim Cole, David Lovejoy, Edwin Cutler, Bill Glyn, Robert Slight, Bob Murray, Bobby Brown, Dennis Keating.

Tuesday, February 26, 20 of the best players will take a trip to Whittier Y.M.C.A. to play a team there. The boys will meet at seven o'clock at the school and be home by 9:45.

Shufflers Play At Whittier Return Game Here Saturday

Saturday Sierra Madre Shufflers crossed cues with the Whittier team at Whittier. The game was spirited from the start and the local aggregation found the entertainers alert and playing the game in sportsmanlike manner, but too skillful for our boys. Not only could they play but they were entertainers worthy of note.

The Sierra Madre players were: Newton Clark, Carl Martin, Thomas Thomas, Ralph Steel, Ralph Bushnel, W. J. Miller, Allan Sivewright, John Chambers, E. C. Chambers and John Osborn.

A return game is scheduled for Saturday, February 23rd, at the Sierra Madre court. The general public is invited and are assured of a fine exhibition of this interesting sport.

School Students Invited to Washington Birthday Party

The Pilgrim Fellowship group of the Congregational church has extended an invitation to the students of the seventh and eighth grades to attend a Washington's Birthday party in Pritchard hall, Friday evening, February 22, 7:30 p.m.

There will be music, games and refreshments.

Admission free, but a silver offering will be accepted.

Chamber of Commerce Off to Fine Start. Retail Group is Formed

Memberships Gain; Speakers Stress Changing Conditions

A large representative group of our local retail merchants met with the Chamber of Commerce directors at the City Council chambers Monday evening to plan the work of that section of the organization.

Walter D. Thurber introduced M. J. Brown, Domestic Trade Commissioner of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce who spoke on merchandising trends. He stressed the necessity of a co-operative movement in order to accomplish any real results. During the war years, merchants have been "order takers" but in the present and future market it will be necessary to stress salesmanship, with new and attractive merchandise cleverly displayed.

Carl T. Colt introduced George Pascoe, manager of the Domestic Trade Department of the Los Angeles Chamber, who emphasized the need of uniformity of architecture in the business district to be developed into a planned theme.

At the conclusion of the address the questions asked and the discussion that followed showed the interest in the subject. A. L. Suman was appointed to organize a committee to study the possibility of theme architecture in Sierra Madre.

It is understood that plans are being made to "lift the faces" of several of our business blocks in the near future and it is hoped that a harmonious style of architecture may be developed.

Mr. Pascoe, a dynamic speaker, said that a younger, more energetic group of business men seemed to be present than when he addressed a similar group in Sierra Madre in 1939.

William Estes was appointed chairman of a committee to study the parking problem to see what changes might be made here which would be beneficial.

RECREATION COMMISSION

The City Recreation Commission met Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the City Hall. It was decided to discontinue the present program at the Park Tuesdays and Thursdays until the new plans for the spring and summer have been submitted to the City Council in April. The future program will be announced at a later date.

SERVICES FOR HILMA PETERSON

Hilma Peterson, 82 Victoria Lane, died February 17 at 74 years of age. She was born at Geneseo, Ill., and had lived in Sierra Madre for the past four years, coming here from Chicago. She is survived by three daughters, Miss Florence Peterson and Mrs. Irene Caron of Sierra Madre and Mrs. Myrtle Swanson of Pasadena, and a son, Arthur C. Peterson of Chicago. Also surviving are four grandchildren, Geraldine Lois Swanson, Thomas Peterson, Paul M. Caron and Susan I. Caron, and six brothers, all of whom reside in the East. Services were held at 2 p.m., February 19, at Grant Chapel, the Reverand Harley Smith officiating. Burial will be in the family plot in Chicago.

RITES HELD FOR ESTHER DEVINE ROBERTS

Mrs. Esther Devine Roberts, 26 S. Baldwin, passed away February 17 in Pasadena at the age of 65. She was born in Sutton, Neb., spent some time in Pasadena and from there moved to Sierra Madre five years ago. Mrs. Roberts is survived by a daughter, Evelyn, of Sierra Madre, and six sisters and one brother, all of whom are living in the East.

Recitation of the Rosary was held Tuesday at Grant Chapel and celebration of Mass at 9 a.m. Wednesday at St. Rita's church, with interment at Calvary cemetery.

SERVICES HELD FOR EMMA EVELYN RICHARDSON

Emma Evelyn Richardson, 119 N. Lima, passed away February 15 at the age of 89. Miss Richardson lived in Sierra Madre for the past 21 years and was an active member of the Methodist church. She is survived by a sister, Meda Wallace of Missouri. Private services were held at Grant Chapel Sunday, February 17.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO HAVE EARLY AMERICAN EXHIBIT

At the next Sierra Madre Woman's club meeting, February 27 at 2 p.m., the members will participate in the program which will be "Living Portraits of Famous American Women." This will be followed by a Colonial Candle-light Tea in charge of Miss Clara Sykes, assisted by the Mesdames R. C. Lewis, H. H. Hempstead, Woodson Jones and A. E. Pulling.

During the tea an exhibit of Early American items will be on display. Members and friends of the club are invited to have their heirlooms and keepsakes in this display. Things to be exhibited must be at least 50 years old. Items such as dishes, glass, jewelry, silver, accessories, samplers, quilts, etc., would be greatly appreciated. Anyone having such items please call Miss Mary Switz, 6762, and bring the articles to the clubhouse at 9 o'clock the morning of February 27, appropriately labeled.

MASONIC NEWS

Officers of the Sierra Madre Masonic Lodge conferred the First Degree of Masonry on a candidate Tuesday evening at a well-attended meeting.

The chairman of the entertainment committee announced at that time that the next monthly dinner for Masons and their families would be held Tuesday, March 19th, in the hall of the Masonic Temple. A motion picture travelogue in color will be the high-light of the evening.

The Fellowcraft Degree will be exemplified by members of the Lodge Tuesday, February 26, at 7:30 p.m. Masons are cordially invited.

REV. WILLIAM G. SCHERER

The Rev. William G. Scherer, who has been on the upper waters of the Amazon for 15 years, will be at Bethany church next Sunday evening at 7:30 to show moving pictures of his work in Peru.

The UNO had some difficulty in picking a place to live, but none at all in deciding that Franco would not be invited to the house warming.

Girl Scouts Have Many Activities

Tennis Tournament Week-end Camp, Valentine Parties

Mrs. Walter Nollac, 507 E. Grand View Ave., with Mrs. Steve O'Donnell as co-hostess, entertained the Girl Scout Leaders' Association at a Valentine breakfast Thursday morning, February 14. After breakfast Mrs. Philip Woodworth, chairman, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Dan Strite, camp chairman, outlined the plans for a week-end camp for Sierra Madre girls to be held at Griffith Park April 5, 6 and 7. Also a Leaders' Training Course will be held at the Episcopal church, Glendora, February 25 and March 4, 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., and a Brownie Course March 4, 9:30 to 3 p.m., same address. Commencing March 28, at Recreation Park, Arcadia, a course will be given on "Outdoor Programs," 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., and will be held each Thursday for six weeks. Mrs. W. R. Smythe spoke on plans for March, regarding the World Friendship Fund.

In International Girl Scout circles, February 22 is known as "Thinking Day," the day that Girl Scouts around the world make plans for closer kinship with their sister Guides and Scouts in other countries. "Thinking Day," Mrs. Raymond Andrews, Commissioner, stated, has remained the practice of Scouts and Guides everywhere in spite of wars. Today the Girl Scouts in the United States are giving tangible expression to their thoughts in the way of gifts of necessities to their less fortunate neighbors. Some 30 Friendship bags are being made and filled by Sierra Madre's 10 Troops, and will be on their way to Holland in March.

Troop 9, accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. R. Crowell and Mrs. R. K. Thaver, enjoyed a hike to Fern Lodge recently.

The girls in Troop 4 have been working on their Star Finding Badge, which culminated in a trip to the Griffith Park Observatory, accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. J. E. Tremberth and Mrs. S. E. Peterson. This same troop enjoyed a Valentine party planned by Linda Hartney and Joycine Thompson at the Scout room in the Congregational church.

Troop 2, with their Leaders, Mrs. Sam Haskins and Mrs. Steve O'Donnell, have planned a Tennis Tournament to take place in the Park. They are also busy collecting and packing a box of canned food to be shipped overseas.

Mrs. Ross Marshall and daughter Patricia, 226 Olvera Pl., entertained this same group to a buffet supper and Valentine party Friday evening.

◆ It's a baby daughter for the J. A. Osgoods, 617 E. Montecito Ave., born Sunday night.

REVERSE LEND-LEASE WITH ENGLAND . . . Hundreds of British war brides and their babies are arriving in the United States to join their husbands and fathers. Immediately upon arrival of ships in New York City they are being rushed by special trains to all parts of the United States. First arrivals announced their pleasure of the clothing and food conditions in America, but refused to discuss politics.

District Scout Meeting Held in Sierra Madre. National Scout Week Observed

National Scout Week was ushered in Saturday afternoon, February 10, when 10,000 enthusiastis Scouts attended the Conclave at the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles.

This information was given by "Skipper" Robison of the Pasadena-San Gabriel Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the district meeting held Monday evening in the home of Wm. A. Kinney, chairman.

Mr. Robison reported that 3000 of the boys were unable to enter the huge auditorium, but were entertained outside. For 30 minutes a National hook-up brought Scouting to the foreground in America, with such attractions as "Charlie McCarthy" and "Truth or Consequences."

The public and Scouts were reminded that the "Shirts off your Back" campaign to secure Scout or Cub uniforms and equipment ends March 15. This campaign is designed to assist the Scouts in the formerly occupied countries to reorganize and to obtain the used uniforms which are so desperately needed.

Luke Gervais, District Commissioner for Senior Scouts, Explorer Post No. 108, sponsored by the Kiwanis club, spoke of the advancement of Scouting in this district. Louis Sparks, representing the Cub Packs at this meeting, said that, as the result of the successful Court of Honor and Cub meeting in the Congregational church February 4, and with the assistance of the Parent-Teachers' Association, two new Den Mothers have been secured for the Cubs. This gives the privilege of entering the ranks of Cubbing to about 15 more boys.

The meeting adjourned at 10 p.m. with refreshments served by Mrs. Kinney.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

A meeting of the official board of the Congregational church was held recently to lay plans for Lent and Easter and for the 60th anniversary of the founding of the church which will take place March 27.

George Morgridge, moderator, was the presiding officer.

DR. PALMER WILL SPEAK

The Congregationalists will again have the pleasure of hearing Dr. Albert W. Palmer from the pulpit Sunday.

Dr. Palmer is a native Californian, having received his early schooling at Highland Park, attended high school at Santa Barbara and college at Berkeley, and later was ordained in Redlands, becoming asociate pastor at the Congregational church in that city. He has held many responsible posts previous to the one he now holds as radio minister of the First Congregational church of Los Angeles.

Annual Meeting of Camp Fire Council

Pasadena Camp Fire Council will hold its annual meeting and dinner Thursday, February 21, at 7 p.m., at I.O.O.F. hall, 175 N. Los Robles Ave., Pasadena.

Miss June Butler, new Camp Fire executive, will be presented at that time. Miss Butler formerly was in Red Cross recreational work overseas.

There will be no speeches but a demonstration by Camp Fire Girls will be given and colored kodachrome slides of Camp Wasewagan and Camp Chiquita will be shown.

All Sierra Madre Camp Fire leaders and their husbands will attend. Leaders include Mrs. Betty Maltby, Mrs. Lucy Young, Mrs. Hjordis Parker, Miss Helen Borbas and Mrs. Zelma Cook.

Sponsors are Mrs. H. C. Parker, Mrs. Emory Diemer and Mrs. Gretchen Newbery.

Suggests a 10-Cent Tax for New Library Building

Sierra Madre is so badly in need of a new Public Library building that despite the valiant efforts of the librarians it is impossible to display all the books so the public can be efficiently served. Our library was the pride of the town in 1887, but the city has grown greatly since then—and the library hasn't. Considering its handicaps it renders wonderful service, but it does not serve the community nearly as well as an efficiently planned building would. Our school children, our students of all kinds and our citizens generally will benefit from a library so arranged and equipped that it can operate effectively and the dignity of our city will be enhanced when we can point to our library with pride instead of with apologies.

The Tarrs have given a fine lot, much more centrally located, for a library. The city has set aside $10,000, which already has drawn $200 interest. Undoubtedly many citizens who take pride in our city will wish to make contributions which will bring the total up to perhaps $30,000.

But that will not be enough for such a library as a cultural center such as this should have. As our present library has served us 60 years it would be foolish to replace it with one which would not serve a growing community a long time.

The Library Board held a special meeting Monday night to which a number of citizens, representing various groups, were invited. The feeling was that the new library should be a War Memorial and that the City Council should be asked to give all the citizens a chance by asking them to vote a 10-cent tax for a limited number of years, so that the library will be worthy of the city and the handsome site it will occupy. It was decided, however, that while the housing shortage lasts and material shortages are so great the new building will be held back so as not to compete with those needing homes. But when we get a chance to vote for it let's be sporty about it. The library which is planned will be an asset to the entire city, an improvement which will made Sierra Madre a better city to live in.

LEESIDE

In Los Angeles Times

Many young men now eager to get home from Japan, the Philippines, China and elsewhere out there might pick up knowledge which would be of great value commercially if they would keep their eyes open.

Dan Reib, who for 18 years or more supplied oil for the lamps of China, says the Orient again is a realm of opportunity for young Americans. Carl Neprud, who has visited Los Angeles several times in recent years as an unofficial friend of China, writes Dan that Shanghai was so little damaged by war it will be going full blast long before Tokyo or Manila will.

All the big American companies are reopening their offices there and looking forward to an insatiable demand for their products.

PTA Observe Founders Day

The teachers, the parents, the community and all youth groups of Sierra Madre were represented in an impressive candlelight ceremony held at the P.T.A. Founders Day meeting Thursday. Supt. Henry Korsmeier represented the teachers, Mrs. Vivien Olsen, the parents and former Mayor Froelich, the community. Also taking part were: Luke Gervais, Boy Scout Commissioner; Mr. McElfresh, representing the Kiwanis club, and representatives from the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cubs, Brownies, Camp Fire Girls, Bluebirds, Boys' Christian League, Explorers and the Y.M.C.A.

After the ceremony, a delightful Valentine Day program was given. Under the direction of Mrs. Vivien Olsen, Mrs. Wanda Weihs and Mrs. Edward R. Halperin, Valentine Day chairman, a group of children presented "living Valentines" to their parents and teachers. While Elsa Seifert and Sally Janes, dressed in old fashioned costumes, sang a series of old favorites, the children in costumes of the gay '90's formed a tableaux to fit the songs behind a huge Valentine frame. It was very well executed and the resulting Valentines were so charming that a repeat performance was given Friday morning to the school children. Those taking part were Al Miller, Margaret Carter, Billy Burr, Susie Thaver, Elissa Diemer, Patty Halperin, Nolie Suman, Sally O'Donnell and Dixie Martin. Tea was served after the meeting.

As Mr. McElfresh extinguished the candles, Mrs. Alice Floyd concluded her Founder's Day address with the reminder that "While the candle light is fleeting, the light which burns in the hearts of all children is immortal. Hence, we need to seek constant guidance as trustees of that light!"

The occasion celebrated the 49th anniversary of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and that of the Sierra Madre P.T.A., its 31st year, with a membership of 459 as contrasted with its beginning nucleus of 40 members in 1915.

Congregational Society Hold Monthly Luncheon

The monthly luncheon of the Women's Society of the Congregational church will be served at 12:30 Tuesday, February 26, by the Mary Martha Circle.

Rev. E. Walter Smith, who is a recently returned missionary from Foochow, China, will speak on conditions in the churches in China.

Reservations must be made for the luncheon by Monday morning by calling 5596.

On Friday, the 22nd, the Mary Martha Circle will meet with Mrs. E. G. Everett, 289 W. Highland, for potluck lunch at 12:30.

The Lydia Circle will meet with Mrs. A. R. Porterfield, 214 W. Carter, at 2 o'clock Friday, the 22nd. The speaker will be a retired missionary.

FIREWOOD FOR OPERA TICKETS . . . Before you can buy a ticket for the opera in Kiel, Germany, you have to produce a pound of firewood in addition to the price of the ducat. USO HONORS COMEDIAN

In recognition of the tremendous job of entertaining servicemen which took Joe E. Brown to every major and many minor outposts where American troops served, Mrs. Maurice T. Moore of New York, national USO Chairman, awards a pair of cuff links to Brown, engraved "J. E. B." on one link and "U. S. O." on the other, symbolizing the permanent link he has in the hearts of servicemen. Ceremony took place at a meeting of Western State USO leaders at Berkeley, Calif.

County Tax Sale to Be March 18

Local Properties Are Advertised in NEWS

Including 2186 parcels of real estate, distributed in some 80 different communities, the county's second largest sale of tax-deeded properties in recent years, and the largest since that of October, 1944, will start Monday, March 18, H. L. Byram, County Tax Collector, announced today.

The properties are being advertised beginning February 21, in 71 different newspapers of the county, including the Sierra Madre News.

The sale will be held at the Hall of Justice with Frank B. Murphy, Deputy Tax Collector, recently returned from three years in the Navy, and Deputy Warren E. Schwab, alternating as auctioneers.

Properties being offered for sale carry a total assessed valuation of $533,195, but will go on the auction block at an aggregate minimum bid of $152,000. The minimum is figured on the basis of seven times the current year's taxes.

The sale in March will be the first of three, and possibly four, such sales scheduled for this year, Byram stated. Three such sales were held in 1945, in February, August and December, at which 3481 properties were sold for a total income to the county of $880,014. At the December sale bidding was so active that final selling prices ran nearly 50 per cent above assessed valuations.

Mr. Byram states that his office is now taking applications for properties which applicants wish put up for auction late in the coming summer. Despite the fact that many of the cities of the county, including the city of Los Angeles, are conducting their own tax lands selling programs, nearly 90,000 deeded properties still remain on the county's list of tax-foreclosed lands, he said.

Father Hubbard's "Mission to Europe" Shrine Auditorium

The first United States public screening of the natural color documented motion picture "Mission to Europe" will be shown to Los Angeles audiences at Shrine Auditorium, Thursday night, February 28, by Father Bernard R. Hubbard, affectionately known by his thousands of followers as the "glacier priest."

Instead of going to his beloved Alaska, Father Hubbard was assigned to cover Europe in a survey of destroyed Jesuit Colleges, churches and properties, in an effort to assist in their rehabilitation.

With auxiliary Chaplain authorization from the military ordinariate of the United States, and with full co-operation of the state and war departments, Father Hubbard was used by Army services to lecture to G.I.'s in both the Mediterranean and European Theaters of Operation.

"I never found such enthusiastic and responsive audiences anywhere," says Father Hubbard. "The American G.I. after all is a very select and a very grand institution. He is physically, mentally and morally the best the country can produce."

Everywhere in Europe, Father Hubbard gathered timely information and took thousands of feet of color motion pictures. He was allowed to take the first color motion pictures of Vatican City and the famous Vatican Gardens. His films show citizens of Palermo digging out of the rubble of war. One of the highlights of his films is the great destruction wrought on Berlin by the Allies. These scenes are shown from the air; he circled the once proud German capital for hours in an army plane, and afterwards made closeups, going by jeep through the streets.

The commentary, which he delivers in person, while an assistant projects his exciting films, is, he says, one of the most interesting of all his vast travels.

FIRE FLAMES

Fire Equipment Should be Brought Up to Date. Drill Teams Organized

Since the arrival of the fire truck and the state equipment, our fire station has somewhat put on the appearance of a regular firehouse. No one can predict exactly what will happen to the state truck. It may be called back, it may be transferred to another district, or it may be offered to Sierra Madre at a trifling cost. There is no way to know. If the equipment is called from us, we will still have "Old Snort" to fill the vacancy left in the firehouse. If the state truck is turned over to us,—well, Sierra Madreans will have had something actually handed to them. In fact that is exactly the case ever since this piece of apparatus has been here. We have not only been supplied with an extra fire fighting machine, but we have been paid for using it. It has furnished the city with a driver to man the trucks at night.

The amount of money spent for over a period of 20 years has been very small when all angles are considered. 'Tis true that the past two years have built up a large figure against the expense of the fire department. After a great number of years of deterioration, wear and tear and all that, there are inevitable expenses to be expected. This should be prepared for and it is unfair to compare the efficiency of the fire department with the efficiency of years gone by. Matters and things, including fire hazards and the fire alarm system have so changed that there is not a fair comparison. If we succeed in preventing fires, we are certainly proving to ourselves that we are not entirely failing.

It appears absolutely pound foolish to neglect any essential materials for fire fighting. There are numerous articles we still lack, but because they cost money to the extent that when they add up, the figure might sound so large there would be an objection, the fire equipment has been allowed to fall off and honeycomb until so many things purchased within a short period makes the expense sound extravagant. It will take some little time to get the needed materials such as up to date fire extinguishers, reliable fire hose and implements that aid in preventing and extinguishing fires. It is most difficult for some of us to understand why there is any hesitancy about buying anything that might improve the efficiency of the firemen and the department. Surely the cost of the fire department is not so high that it is not worthy of the best there is. Considered the most important department when it comes to emergency, there should not be a lackness of up to date equipment. Time will tell and it is looked forward to the time when Sierra Madre will have the best there is.

Five drill teams have been formed and soon there will be much competition at the fire drills. Teams will be timed and their efforts measured for carefulness in the handling of the equipment. Much interest is anticipated. Teams have been planned in order that more drills other than the bi-monthly practices may be performed. It has been found that due to the many men subject to drill, none get sufficient experience to be entirely familiar with the apparatus. The men are all in hearty favor of the new arrangement and the future may bring forth a competitive drill for the general public to witness. In fact it has been hinted that prizes may be offered. The names of the members of each team are now on display on the bulletin board. Firemen are asked to find out where they belong and get to work on drills immediately.

A letter read at the City Council from the fire chief requesting the painting of "Old Snort" did not meet with entire approval. It has not yet been determined whether the council will agree to have it painted or not. A definite answer has not been received. Maybe they will—just for old time's sake. Some of us (who are really old timers) would like to see the old boy fixed up with a bright new coat. We would sit back of that wheel with the pride of kings on a throne. If the state truck is retained and it is found that it is of any value,—there is that question of, "where will we put it?" If we don't soon get our present fire station arranged so that the trucks can be driven out and in more easily,—we might need some new fenders. FIRES OUT.

THE COOKIE JAR

Whether you are six or sixty the cookie jar is probably one of the most frequented spots in the American kitchen. Because there are as many cookies as there are occasions for serving them, they have come to be known as a typical American dessert. One or two crisp, crunchy cookies add the finishing touch to a meal when a soft pudding or ice cream is served. Hungry children coming in from school need something to fill the gap until dinner and what could be more wholesome with a glass of milk than some old fashioned molasses cookies. Even though some of us are "sugar shy," we can still keep the cookie par filled by using jam and honey to stretch our precious sugar supply and at the same time furnish a pleasing variety.

OATMEAL COOKIES

1½ c. sifted flour
1 tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. salt
1 c. shortening
¾ c. brown sugar
¾ c. white sugar
2 eggs, unbeaten
1 tsp. hot water
1 c. nut meats
1 c. raisins
2 c. oatmeal
1 tsp. vanilla

Sift flour, measure, add soda and salt and sift. Cream fat until fluffy; add sugars; cream well. Beat in eggs. Add hot water, then sifted ingredients. Add nuts, raisins and oatmeal; mix well. Add vanilla. Drop by spoonfuls on greased cookie sheet. Bake at 350° for 10 to 15 minutes. Do not overbake.

ORANGE COOKIES

⅔ c. ground orange and juice
½ c. shortening
¾ c. sugar
1 egg
1½ c. sifted flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt

Cut whole, unpeeled orange in quarters and run through food chopper. Cream shortening and sugar together. Add beaten eggs. Sift flour, baking powder and salt and add to the creamed mixture alternately with the ground orange and juice. Drop by teaspoon onto greased cookie sheet. Bake 20 minutes at 350°. Makes 3 dozen.

OLD FASHIONED MOLASSES COOKIES

3 c. sifted flour
2 tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. soda
1½ tsp. ginger
½ tsp. salt
1 egg
¾ c. melted fat
1 c. molasses

Sift flour; measure; add dry ingredients and sift again. Combine fat, molasses; add egg and blend. Stir in dry ingredients in several portions. Chill 10 to 15 minutes, until firm enough to roll. Divide dough in three parts. Roll out ¼ inch thick. Cut and bake 10 to 12 minutes at 375°.

Carol Drake Heads Safeway Department

Candle-light Ceremony and Valentine Program Given

Carol Drake will be the new name of the Director of Safeway Stores, Inc., Home Economics department according to an announcement today by the retail grocery concern. The new director's services will be offered to the public through The Homemakers' Bureau which has been Safeway's department for testing commodities and developing menus for use in the home for 15 years.

Carol Drake's home economics advice, offered through The Homemakers' Bureau, will result from testing and experimenting by 15 professional home economics authorities under the direction of Julia P. Hindley, Manager of this Safeway department.

"Safeway plans to create for Carol Drake a personality which will stamp her as an authority on all the things which a housewife wants to know in her job as a homemaker," stated Mrs. Hindley. "Our experienced staff is familiar with every branch of home economics. Carol Drake will personify the best in style of clothes which Mrs. Homemaker wants to wear in her home, during her shopping, and entertaining at parties and teas. She will be an authority to whom the housewife can bring questions on home decorations, table service and party menus. She will know the functions of home questions and will be able to advise on the type of equipment needed to perform these functions. We expect Carol Drake to be of great help to housewives in answering specific questions on home problems."

"Carol Drake's suggestions and ideas will result from a complete home testing service," continued Mrs. Hindley. "We will have five kitchens and various home testing rooms to try out ideas or to seek solutions for home problems. Carol Drake will also have the advantage of a complete research service. Safeway has the largest library of cook books and home economics material in the United States outside of the Library of Congress."

The Homemakers' Bureau, under Carol Drake, will continue to answer direct questions on problems which are faced by housewives and home economics teachers. This has been one of the most important services The Homemakers' Bureau has offered in the past, and the Company plans to extend this service through the use of new facilities and equipment now being installed.

Prior to the announcement of the new name of Carol Drake as the Director of The Homemakers' Bureau, Safeway's home economics operation was conducted under the name of Julia Lee Wright, a name which was used jointly with Family Circle magazine. Julia Lee Wright will continue as foods editor of Family Circle.

Life is short—a fleeting vapor;
Don't you fill the whole blamed paper
With a tale which, at a pinch,
Could be cornered in an inch.
Boil her down until she simmers,
Polish her until she glimmers.
When you got a thing to say,
Say it! Don't take half a day!

YEP, THAT'S MY MOTTO! MOM and POP have told me that the person who talks the most accomplishes the least. That is why I sit here taking in everything and saying nothing!

ANOTHER THING MOM HAS TRIED to teach me is to be polite. She tells me that politeness is consideration for the comfort and happiness of those around me, and that if I am as considerate of them as they are of me (or vice versa), then this will be a very happy, peaceful little world! Which is only an application of the Golden Rule, eh?

SPEAKING OF POLITENESS: A man on a crowded street car offered his seat to a lady and she fainted! She "came to" and thanked him, and HE fainted!

THIS BEING AN ADVERTISING column, at least so says "the Old Man," I had better talk a bit about food. Guess the difference between my column and one run by a "columnist"—outside of the ability of the latter to hold genuine reader-interest—is that I pay the newspaper for MY space and the newspaper pays the "columnist" for HIS space! If this is confusing to you, just phone Lee Shippey at 4417 and he will give you the low-down. (Advertisement?)

COMING BACK TO BUSINESS, there is nothing more refreshing for breakfast than a tall glass of rich California orange or grapefruit juice. CALIFORNIA citrus fruit juices contain the necessary vitamins to prevent falling hair and loose teeth!

NOW I AM TOLD BY CURLY to recommend HUMPTY DUMPTY English Muffins for your Sunday breakfast. You slice and toast these and serve them with Ward's Orange Marmalade, which is made right here in Ourville.

I AM TOLD WE STILL HAVE a nice line of jams and jellies, plastic clothes pins, Scotch tape, dustpans, brooms, mops, crackers and candy, and so forth in our big, little store on the corner on the square—and we hope we are ONE JUMP AHEAD!

DON'T FORGET THE RED CROSS! NO CONTRIBUTION IS MORE WORTH-WHILE!

Miss Bonita Williams Wed in Church Sunday

At a lovely nuptial mass, held at five o'clock Sunday at Saint Rita's Catholic church, Miss Bonita Williams, daughter of Mrs. Guy Williams, 400 Mariposa Avenue, was married to Lt. David Moore of Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed by Father Eustace Eilers C. P. The former Miss Williams attended school here and in Pasadena. She served as a Spar in the Coast Guard during the war and received her discharge from the service, following her return from Honolulu last November.

Lt. Moore saw service in the Pacific area and wears the Purple Heart, Oak Leaf Cluster and the D.S.C. He was navigator on the first non-stop flight from Japan to Washington.

The bride was lovely in a conventional white satin wedding gown, with train. She carried a white prayer book with an orchid.

Mrs. Randel Maass served her sister as matron of honor. She was attractive in a turquise blue gown and wore pink velvet flowers trimmed with a pink veil in place of a hat. Miss Kay Moore, the groom's sister, who came from Philadelphia for the wedding, was bridesmaid. She was attired in pink accessories and a corsage tiarra of the same color.

The bride's mother was charming in a grey gown worn with pinkk accessories and a corsage of roses and camellias.

The groom's mother was unable to be present at the wedding. His aunt, Miss Agnes Sheridan, wore an attractive gown of rose and black.

Lt. George Stowbridge of New Jersey flew west from MacDill Field, Florida, to attend Lt. Moore, with whom he served in the late war as co-pilot.

Following the wedding, which was attended by two hundred guests, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. The house was beautifully decorated with gladiolas. Mrs. Fred Wilson and Mrs. Orville Williams poured the punch and coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore met two years ago in Santa Ana where the groom was training as a cadet officer. The bride was soloist with the orchestras of Rudy Vallee and Jimmy Greer during their bond tours, being the only non-professional in the troups.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

MARY ELLEN PULLING

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Pulling, 8927 S. Dalton Ave., Los Angeles, announce the engagement of their daughter Mary Ellen to David L. Way of Denver, Colo. Miss Pulling graduated from Pasadena Junior college in 1942. Mr. Way is attending the University of Denver. The Pullings were residents of Sierra Madre for 17 years and moved to Los Angeles four years ago. No date has been set for the wedding.

CUTLER-WEIN

At a quiet ceremony at her home, 375 Montecito, Katharine Cutler was married to Jordon Wein of Boston last Friday night at eight o'clock. Their marriage vows were taken before Judge Noren Eaton, with Mrs. Eaton and Sam Perloff serving as witnesses.

The bride was attractive in an aqua suit with brown accessories. She wore no hat.

CUB NEWS

Wolf, Bear and Lion Cubs of Sierra Madre strayed from their folds Tuesday evening to view a model train exhibit in Pasadena. The authentic little models were dispatched over their tiny rails by the big kindly faced men who made them and although the Cubs watched with interest the available standing room for spectators was too small to accomodate such a large group which included many adults. When interest waned, the boys were whisked to the ice cream store for malts. To say they kept the attendents busy would be an understatement.

MUSICAL PAGEANT AT WOODROW WILSON JR. HI.

A pageant portraying "The Days of the Golden West" was presented by the combined glee clubs of Woodrow Wilson Junior high school recently. Nancy Davis was the narrator of the program.

Choral numbers were: "This is My Country," "Red River Valley," Workin' on the Railroad," "Romeo in Georgia," "The Victory Tide," and "Erie Canal."

Interpretative dances by various students included a square dance presented by Freddie Travis, Georgia Sauer, Claudia Arnold, Addorea Singleton, Mary Ellen Macik, Shirley Shoemaker, Minette Vogel, Mary Ann Martin, Joe Carroll, Don Phillips, Dale Kraushar, Ernest Freedle, Herbie Milholland, Joe Williams, Marshall Wix and Robert Leal.

A Spanish dance was given by Dona Freeman, Marv Jane Findling, Darlene Matthews, Caryl Welbourn, Marjorie Haves, Peggy Peete, June Wooley, Hella Klipstein-Hauser, and a Swedish Schottische by Maxine Raney, Joan McMartin, Diane Windsor, Sally Toombes, Margaret Howland and Alice Edwards.

Shirley Heath, in a costume of the period, sang "Jeannie, with the Light Brown Hair." Accompanists were Jean Honzav, Lucene Meeder, Phyllis Manninger, Carol Hostetler. Elva Orlow played a violin obligato for the girls' glee club when they sang, "Beautiful Dreamer."

The entire program was under the direction of Miss Rua E. Lowe and Mrs. Saidee Ewy who with Mrs. Ester Cogswell developed the continuity for the pageant.

More Than 2500 Products Manufactured in County

With industry reconverted from war work, it is conservatively estimated that more than 2500 different products are now being manufactured in Los Angeles county.

That this total may be even larger was predicted today by George J. O'Brien, chairman of the industrial development committee of Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, in announcing a survey begun by the Chamber for a new manufacturers' directory covering the county. It will be peacetime artillery in the Chamber's active campaign to build up domestic and foreign markets for locally-made commodities.

The directory, suspended during the war for military security reasons, will be a free listing of all known products made here, with their makers' names and addresses. Questionnaires have been sent out to gather essential data quickly and get the much-needed guide off the press.

Distributed free of charge by the Chamber, the book when ready late this spring, will go to buyers throughout the United States and in many foreign countries.

RED ZONES

Drivers seeking parking places in metropolitan areas are reminded that red curb markings indicate no stopping, standing or parking, whether the vehicle is attended or not.

Plans are under way, according to the Touring Department of the National Automobile Club, to have Yellowstone national Park operating on a pre-war basis during the 1946 season. It is planned to have hotels, lodges, tourist cabins, cafeterias and other facilities open at all main points of interest and to provide the same type of service that was available before the war. From the way travel increased in Yellowstone after the cessation of hostilities and the release of gasoline rationing, indications are that all travel records will be broken in the park during the 1946 season.

3-Piece Outfit With Old Etching Made at Home Saves Cash for Bond

Two squares of silk printed with an old etching forms this unusual cream and brown overblouse. It dresses up a tailored suit, combining a slim, four-gored skirt and three-quarter length coat of ash blonde wool. The loose-fitting coat has revers and wide raglan sleeves. This outfit is a money-saver to help buy an extra Victory Bond. Patterns at local stores.

Children Learn Gardening Best in Helping Grownups

Teach Children the Simple Gardening Skills by Your Example.

Children love gardens; and the lessons they learn, from sowing seeds, and watching plants grow, are not easily taught by classroom instruction. But to ask a beginner to make a garden of his own often results in disappointment.

It's a good deal to expect, for a child to assume the responsibility of regular care for a garden, when there are so many tempting pastimes beckoning him elsewhere. But if you introduce him to the garden as your helper, teaching the simple skills required by your example, explaining the reasons for what you do, and letting him share your pride of accomplishment, you are likely to have an eager and responsive pupil.

Few children can be interested in a child's garden, but most of them will be delighted to help grow the family garden. It is important that their introduction to this pastime shall not be tedious or involve monotonous tasks which may cause gardening to be associated in their minds thereafter with unpleasant work. Children work willingly when there is a reward to be won. The first lessons should be directed to teaching garden techniques, and letting the pupil see how they are rewarded by vegetables and flowers.

In due time, the average child so taught will want a garden of his own. Some may show small interest until they have established their own homes, when they will prove that the lessons which they learned in childhood sank deep, and will never be forgotten.

One of the difficult tasks of educators is to teach city children what the world is really like; to make them understand nature, with which they have small contact. Gardening is an effective means of providing this basic understanding.

"Now - it - can-be-told" lectures on wartime activities, including scientific developments, are scheduled for a series at one university.

LIMITED USE OFF DDT IN GARDENS FORECAST

Will DDT, the war-developed insecticide, be useful to combat insects in home gardens this year? Many gardeners are asking.

DDT will have limited usefulness in the garden.

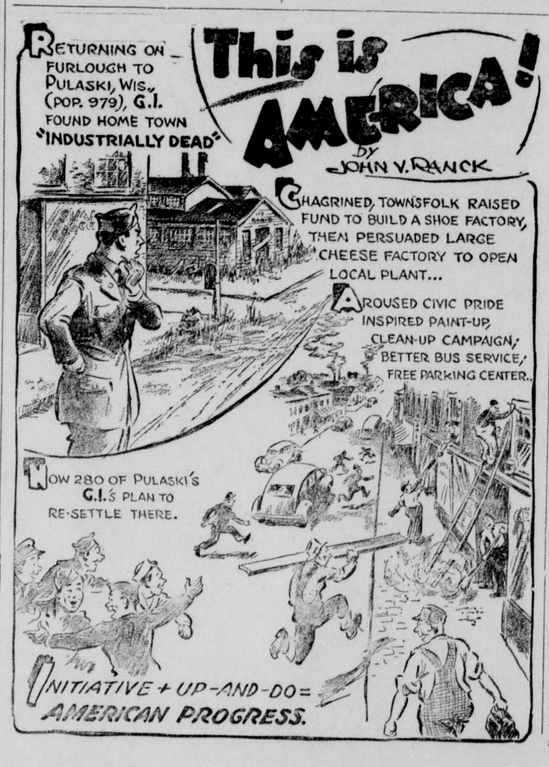
The greatest handicap to use of DDT on vegetables is the danger to humans from poisoning by residue left on the plants. Ill effects may be suffered by persons eating leafy portions that have been sprayed or dusted recently with DDT.

The poison hazard seems to be confined to use of the chemical on vegetables with leafy edible parts. Little danger exists when it is used on root vegetables or on plants with non-leafy food products. String beans, lima beans, peas, radishes and beets are among the safe vegetables. DDT spray or dust can be applied to cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli and other head-forming plants. But it should not be used on these vegetables after the heads start to develop.

The corn borer in sweet corn, is an easy victim and no danger exists in its use on this crop.

At least one plant is harmed by DDT. Squash is stunted, and should never be sprayed or dusted. Cucumber beetle can be controlled on cucumbers and melons, but the DDT should be applied before the vines start to run. Used after the plants blossom, bees will be killed and fruit will not set.

By all indications the big job of killing insects in the garden is still to be done by the old reliable insecticides. They are safe to use and for most insects just as effective as DDT.



HANDEL'S "LARGO" TO BE SUNG

An adaptation of Handel's "Largo" will be sung as a solo by Robert Hall Collins on the Christian Science transcribed program which will be broadcast Sunday, February 24, over Station KFMB (1450 kc), San Diego, at 9 a.m., and over Station KMPC (710 kc), Los Angeles, at 6:15 p.m. Mr. Collins will be accompanied by Ruth Barrett Arno on the organ of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. This organ comprises 76 stops and more than 5000 pipes. The Honorable Mrs. Hay (Violet Spiller) of London, England, wrote the words of the solo, entitled "Oh May My Voice."

WEST COAST WILL GROW SAYS CENSUS DIRECTOR

The West Coast and far Southwest area which gained population so rapidly during the war will probably continue to grow during post-war years, according to Dr. Vergil D. Reed, associate director of research of J. Walter Thompson Company, and formerly acting director of the Bureau of Census, in a newly published booklet on "Population and Purchasing Power," based on government figures. Decentralization of industry in the West Coast and southwestern states as a result of new freight rates favoring these areas will be an important factor influencing many American workers to settle. Just as was the case during the war and during the "Grapes of Wrath" depression migration of the '30's, Dr. Reed says most of the increase in population in the West and Southwest will be matched by a loss on the part of northern and eastern states. States which have gained most rapidly since 1935 are Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada and Arizona.

Florida attracted a steady stream of new residents during the same period. The only gaining northern and eastern states were: Connecticut, Rhode Island, Michigan, Maryland and Virginia.

Dr. Reed writes: "We have the natural resources, the industrial facilities, labor force, capital and management to turn out a national product of $200,000,000,000 a year. We can do it because we have already done it. But one further important force should be considered in connection with our population and the possibilities of maintaining the high standard of production which we have attained. This is the psychology of the population. If the people feel secure in their jobs and secure as to the peace, there is little reason to be concerned about depression. If people are ridden with fear as to the loss of their jobs or as to the security of the peace, they will not only hesitate to spend from their savings, but they will try to hold on to their current income. Industry as well as Government must keep in mind this factor and create the greatest feeling of security possible,—the 'climate' for prosperity."

DISEASE PREVENTION WEEK

Disease Prevention Week will be observed February 17-24 in the entire county. People are urged to be vaccinated, immunized, examined. See your doctor or nearest public health center now. This is a program of united action to end the threat to the welfare of this area presented by five dangerous forms of sickness. An all-out attack is to be launched, aimed at the prevention, control and the ultimate complete elimination, as far as is humanly possible, of these five diseases which are among the most serious dangers this country in facing.

Diptheria, the dread disease that strangles to death your babies and children is at its worst since 1939. Smallpox has returned to California in virulent form. Gonorrhea, 6180 cases reported in L. A. Can be eliminated by proper treatment. Syphilis, 11,356 cases reported in L. A., of these, 332 were new born babies. May be cured by proper treatment. Tuberculosis, more people die in this area of this than from all other reportable diseases.

See your doctor or phone the L. A. County Medical Association or your nearest health center, which is in Monrovia.

◆ Mrs. Craig L. Davidson, 550 W. Sierra Madre Boulevard, is entertaining a group of Mrs. Edna Croan's piano pupils with a musical tea Sunday, February 24, from 3 to 5. A lovely program has been prepared.

◆ Mrs. Camillo Cuoca, the former Jeanne Danet of Venice, was a guest at the Caley home, 233 Ramona, Tuesday. Mrs. Cuoca is the foster daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Borglum, the artist who had her studio on Manzanita Ave. for many years. She had not visited Sierra Madre for 30 years, so found many changes as she rode around the city. Other visitors of the Caleys were Mrs. Ted Jorgensen of San Fernando, Mrs. Alice Lloyd of Pasadena and Mrs. Roy Wenzel of Chardon, O. Mrs. Wenzel left for Ohio Monday after spending three months in California.

◆ Chaplain Norman M. McLeod Jr. and family spent Tuesday with Dr. and Miss Pritchard. Mr. McLeod has just returned from service in the Philippines and they were en route to their home in Newport, R.I.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

Time tends to color the raw hardships and bitter sacrifices of men and nations with romance and glamour. With more than a century and a half separating our day and the American Revolution it is difficult tor us to fully comprehend the struggle of the Colonists and their great leader.

Men like George Washington knew they were on a one-way road in their fight for independence from the British Crown. They knew there was no turning back, and that at the end of that road they must either achieve victory or face a firing squad as traitors. "Liberty or death," was no mere catch phrase with them. It meant just what it said.

Washington's burden as commander-in-chief was doubly hard. Not only had he the enemy to fight but he had to contend with the jealousy and intrigue of those Americans who sought to discredit and remove him.

That he was able to withstand the discouragement and despair that so frequently confronted him, and at the same time inspire his men to carry on, is in itself a tribute more eloquent to the man than words could ever express. With a less dauntless leader the Colonies could hardly have attained the eventful triumph of Yorktown.

But this Nation owes to George Washington more than what he contributed as a military leader. Even after victory the Colonies might have utterly fallen apart had it not been for his great influence at the Constitutional Convention in bringing agreement out of sharp conflicts.

So, in observing the 214th anniversary of his birth the American people honor him as a soldier and statesman, and as a man whose courage and vision gave strength to the first faltering footsteps of this great Nation.

CALIFORNIA GOES AHEAD

Predictions made about postwar California aren't panning out.

California, you will remember, was supposed to experience a sharp drop in population and a sharp rise in unemployment when the war ended. But instead of going down our population continues to go up. And despite drastic curtailment of war jobs there is still more work than workers.

This shows that the great majority of those who came to California in the "second gold rush" are staying, and that the industrial progress made in recent years was by no means confined to the "war baby" variety.

It has often been predicted that our State will eventually become the population and business center of the Nation. It should.

California has tremendous advantages in climate, in geographical location, and in natural resources. The great diversity in industrial and agricultural production gives stability to our economy.

The war gave great impetus to industrial development but California has already proved that its real prosperity lies in peacetime production.

DO IT RIGHT

Reports from both Germany and Japan indicate that our occupation officials are unable to do a thorough job in those countries because, under the pressure from home for a speedy return of troops, they have had to send back key men whom they badly need.

In Germany, especially, the Americans are turning over more and more important jobs to the Germans since lack of adequate personnel leaves no choice.

The "bring-the-boys-home" demand is quite understandable. The American people don't like war or anything that goes with it. Now that the fighting is over they want their boys home and the boys want to come home.

But this attitude is not helping us win the peace. Unless we keep a sufficient number of men on hand to properly police the occupied territories for five or 10 years we are leaving ourselves open to the possible military recovery of our enemies and another world war.

Yes, that sounds far-fetched now, but after seeing the recovery Germany made after the last war we should never belittle her recuperative powers. Nor should we be overconfident about Japan.

The point is, thousands of young Americans sacrificed their lives to win this war. Are we going to endanger their sacrifices because occupation duties are distasteful or unpleasant?

Because we didn't properly finish the job after World War I we had to fight it all over again. We can't afford to make such a mistake again.

EVENTFUL YEAR

A lot has happened in the past year.

In February, 1945, Germany was beaten but still hanging on. In the Pacific we took Manila on February 6 and invaded Iwo Jimo on the 19th. But the Japs still appeared strong and full of fight. Now, a year later, Germany is through as expected and Japan is also finished—not as expected.

In reviewing the success of the past year no one factor or weapon can be singled out and credited with the results—not even the atom bomb. That deadly missile, as we later learned, simply clinched what was virtually an accomplished fact when it fell—Japan was already beaten.

Aside from the great personal sacrifice and heroism of our fighting men, victory was realized as much through the help of the commonplace tools of war as through the much more spectacular ones. One American general said that the motor truck was the Army's "most valuable weapon."

A year ago we were in the midst of the problems of war. Today we are in the midst of the problems of peace. Yes, a lot can happen in a year.

Advocate Waterworks be Taken Over by City. W. S. Andrews Elected President of Water Co.

At the meeting of the newly elected directors of the Sierra Madre Water Company Friday evening J. C. Blumer tendered his resignation as president of the company and the vacancy was filled by the election of Vice-President W. S. Andrews to the position. In a letter to the Sierra Madre News Mr. Blumer, who has held the position of president for many years, stated he was resigning from the company as he found he was out of accord with the policy of the majority of the board of directors. At Friday's meeting H. G. Flint was elected secretary to succeed S. R. Norris who had resigned from the position.

The general feeling has been that there should be changes in the conduct of the affairs of the company in connection with the present lack of provision for water for city purposes and there has been a demand that the city take over the waterworks.

(Editor's Note: An interesting sidelight concerning W. S. Andrews came to the attention of the News. Mr. Andrews originally owned 40 acres of land at the corner of Michillinda and Sierra Madre Blvd. and erected a modest home thereon about 70 years ago and it has housed three generations. As the orchard grew and the family grew, additional rooms were built and the present fine home is the result. Some of the land was subdivided but the estate still comprises 2½ acres and is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond D. Andrews and family.)

A number of representative Republicans met last night and organized the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League of Sierra Madre. The following officers were elected: C. W. Jones, president; J. C. Dickson, first vice-president; J. A. Osgood, second vice-president; S. R. G. Twycross, third vice-president; A. Lehmer, secretary and treasurer.

Owing to the lease of the Andrews building to D. B. Mulligan and G. Bresley, who will conduct a laundry on the premises, the juvenile library of the Woman's club has secured temporary quarters in the Bishop building.

At a business meeting of the Congregational church Sunday morning H. J. Irwin, chairman of the board of trustees, presented plans for the enlargement of the church building to provide accommodation for 140 people. The plans call for an addition to the present annex and the remodeling of the kitchen. The estimated cost of these improvements is $1200. The matter of raising the money was put in the hands of Prof. W. W. Coates and within a few minutes $706 was subscribed. A committee consisting of Mrs. Frank Wright, Miss Hazel Hill and Mrs. J. C. Dickson was appointed to solicit further gifts.

The cast of "The Fairchilds," a farce comedy to be presented at Town Hall February 27 and 28, for the benefit of the public library, includes Misses Edith Blumer, Anita Carter and Lottie Humphries, Mrs. E. W. Camp, Trevor Teele, Eugene Simpson, A. Ferguson, J. Rausome Bansby and G. K. Bourke.

The government nursery, located at Henninger's Flats on the automobile trail up Mt. Wilson, has recently been moved to the mountains in the vicinity of San Bernardino. Not all the young trees were removed to the new location and Arthur Carter brought down a large number of them which he will plant in the foothills north of Sierra Madre.

Bailey Canyon to Be Sierra Madre Park. Wistaria Fete Opens March 17

Bailey Canyon, said to be the most beautiful natural spot in Los Angeles county and all Southern California, is to become a Sierra Madre Park. The job of making the canyon accessible to the public has been undertaken by the City Volunteer Fire Department with the following committee in charge: Chief W. D. Richards, Frank Lovell, Roy Walsworth and Bob Newbery.

The City Councils of Sierra Madre and Arcadia took initial steps Wednesday looking to the diversion for use of the two cities of water allocated them by the State Department of Public Works. The two Councils passed resolutions calling for a joint survey of the necessary water lines and agreed to divide the expenses of making the water available.

March 17 was set by the Woman's club as the date for Sierra Madre's Wistaria Fete after Mrs. H. T. Fennel telephoned the News that buds had broken out on the world-famous vine. Virginia Jones has been appointed general chairman of the 1931 fete. Committees so far appointed are the central committee of which Mrs. E. E. Bacon is chairman, assisted by Mrs. H. T. Fennel; finance committee, Mrs. H. B. Hersey, chairman, assisted by Mrs. R. S. Corlett and Mrs. W. R. Lees; ways and means, with Mrs. Nestor Young as chairman; Mrs. N. Young, concessions; Mrs. W. B. Hersey, grounds; Mrs. Woodson Jones, luncheons and teas; Mrs. M. R. McBurney, barbecue; Mrs. J. M. Campbell, candy.

Interest has been aroused by the announcement that construction of the Big Santa Anita Canyon highway will commence at an early date. According to V. P. Vetter, District Ranger, U.S. Forest Service, the proposed road will not only open up the Big Santa Anita and lower West Fork Canyons to better fire protection but will make the timbered area of the back country available to the people of Sierra Madre for recreational purposes.

AROUND AND ABOUT

By EDWARD LLOYD VOORHEES

The Emerald Isle—DUBLIN ITS HEART. Returning up the Shannon in our motor boat we passed within a few feet of two men fishing from a rowboat, who did not look up. My boatman remarked that they were the English colonel and his son, mentioned before, who lived in the walled grange bordering the river. I wondered to myself how it felt to live in a country where one is not only not wanted but suspected of espionage and ferforce "protected" by the Police. I wish I could have heard their side of the story, but I did not discuss the matter with the boatman nor ask any questions, for I have always held that a traveling foreigner is a guest in the country and have preferred not to discuss controversial politics with strangers. On reaching Athlone without further incident, I was sorry to miss exploration of beautiful Lough (Lake) Rhee with its "island-studded length" of 17 miles, beginning practically in the doorway of that city and of which I had a fleeting glimpse as we landed.

Soon I was on the train for Dublin, and a fine train it was, with a good roadbed across the boglands and pastures out of Roscommon district—in no sense a reminder of "the rocky road to Dublin" of the ancient song. And this time I did not stop off, and arrived at the capital of Eire before dusk. A casual acquaintance on the train had advised me to put up at Jury's Hotel, as being large, comfortable and central, and when I mentioned to him my puzzlement at finding almost no fresh vegetables in Ireland so far except potatoes and an occasional turnip or cabbage, that I was beginning to feel symptoms of what I conjected to be scurvy, and was longing for a salad, he suggested that I go around the corner from Jury's to Jammet's lunch-bar and make my wants known. This kind and well-informed person proved a real aid to nature, as I was soon to discover!

Off the train at Dublin—which was officially called by its Gaelic name of Baile Atha Cliath (pronounced Bwah-la-ah-ha-klee-a, with accents on the 1st, 3rd and 5th syllables—in case that is any help!)—I at once felt the rumble and rhythm of the great city that it is with its 300,000 souls, and yet exuding the atmosphere of age, tradition and history. Settled soon at the hotel in a large and comfortable room with a runner-up for the biggest washbowl in captivity—by actual measurement it was 16"x24"—I sallied forth around the corner to the recommended lunch-bar with high faith that I should find a salad. Faith sometimes does work miracles and as I mounted a stool at the shining bar there before my eyes on the long shelf under the great mirror was a row of as beautiful round, red, succulent tomatoes as I have ever seen before or since. They were small, but they were there! And beside them reposed a real cucumber! And when with popping and covetous eyes I asked the bartender if he would make a green salad, and he smiled pleasantly and asked me would I have French dressing or mayonnaise, I felt that the Old Order had indeed passed away, and behold, all things were facing up toward the Good Life! Moreover, he actually produced a few crisp lettuce leaves from some hidden sanctum, and the net result was all that heart could wish or palate anticipate.

On my left at the bar was a fine-looking, well-groomed gentleman who was talking to another man on his left. When the second went out, the first said to me: pleasantly: "I beg pardon, but I heard you speaking, and are you not an American?" On my answering yes, he asked me if I knew Irish whiskey. I replied that I had heard it praised highly but had never tasted it. Thereupon he asked me if I would "do him the great honor to have my first glass with him." It would be a pleasure, said I—and so it proved,, a pleasure of taste unique in my experience, a sensation as of a rich aromatic smoke with a mellow patina of fine oil, which is, I realize, an inadequate description of Dublin's most famous brand. I think Mr. H. enjoyed my reaction almost as much as I did, and after a leisurely conversation in which he asked me some pertinent questions about business conditions in America and discovered that I had only just arrived in Dublin and would be staying a few days, he said that with my consent he would like to make me an "honorary member" of the Dublin Commercial Club for the period of my stay—a place where I could drop in any time, he said, to read the newspapers or write a letter or rest myself. This, thought I, was Irish hospitality with flowers, and I said something of the sort, stammering my thanks, for I was as surprised as I was touched by this cordial gesture on such short acquaintance.

"Come along, then," said my host, smiling. We walked a short distance to a fine looking building, past a liveried doorman who was told by Mr. H. to remember me and to let me pass in at any time, as I was to have visitors' privileges at the Club during my stay in Dublin. Mr. H. had me sign the guest book, remarking that the signature just above mine was that of his father, who had also arrived in Dublin that day for a visit. He showed me the various rooms, which were all attractively and comfortably appointed, including the library and reading room,

USE DRY STRING TO Fly Kites

Dry string is the one safe thing to use when you fly your kite. If string gets wet electricity can travel along it just as it will over wire, tinsel, or metallic string. Play safe, use a dry string for your kite, and remember the three other safety rules of kite flying also. Here they are:

1. Fly kites in an open field, away from power lines and other overhead obstructions.
2. Never use wire, tinsel, or metallic string.
3. Be sure the string is perfectly dry.
4. If the kite catches in a power line, let go immediately. Don't pull! Phone the company owning the line, and a lineman will come to get your kite for you.

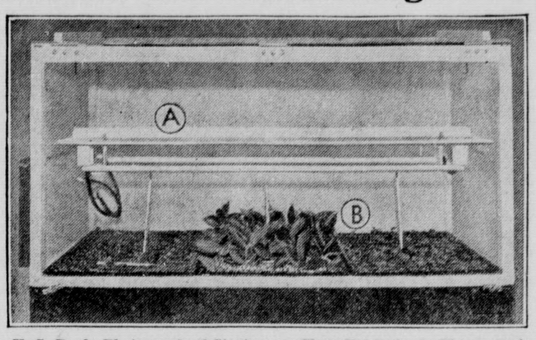
and a quiet, retired writing room. I remember particularly the fine hunting prints which decorated the walls. Mr. H. said he hoped I would be comfortable and make some use of the place, and it being Friday, he then suggested some of the notable spots I might visit during the next two days and perhaps we would meet again at the Club on Monday. As we shook hands and said goodnight I felt that with such a warm and friendly welcome to Dublin I had every reason to anticipate a most pleasant stay in the capital of the Irish Free State. Nor was I to be disappointed in any respect. . . And by the way—the combined effects of my first Irish salad and my first Dublin whiskey was a bit in the nature of internal revolution, but the net result was good, very good!

ROCKY MOUNTAIN REUNION

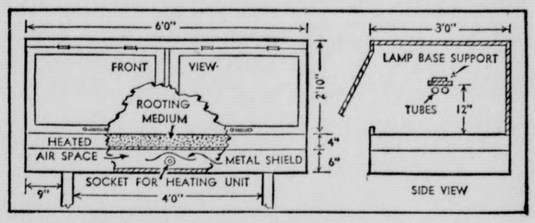
All day Saturday, March 2 at Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles. Meet a friend and find a friend. So say the Presidents of these states, Idaho, Utah, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico.

Aside from music, the program will be given over to good fellowship. Coffee, badges and registers available as usual.

U. S. Model Hot-bed Grows Plants in Artificial Light



U. S. D. A. Photograph of Stoutmeyer-Close Hot-Bed. A, Fluorescent Lamp Fixture; B, Trays in Which Plants Grow.



Working Drawing of Basement Hot-Bed Illustrated Above.

A hot-bed in which plants for next spring's garden can be started this winter in the basement, or any room of the house, and grown to transplanting size under artificial light, is illustrated.

V. T. Stoutmeyer and Albert W. Close of the United States department of agriculture developed the model shown, which uses fluorescent lamps to supply light. More than a hundred years ago N. B. Ward, inventor of the Wardian case, now called the terrarium, grew plants under gas light, experimentally. But until now it has been impractical to supply sufficient light artificially, without also developing too much heat.

The fluorescent lamp makes it possible to provide, without too much heat, sufficient light to germinate seed and develop plants to the proper size for moving to the outdoor garden.

As shown, the Stoutmeyer hot-bed consists of a box, resting on a table or on legs, in which trays or flats filled with sphagnum moss or vermiculite are placed, with an air space containing a heating unit beneath them, and fluorescent lamps above. Two 40-watt fluorescent tubes —either blue tubes, or daylight type —with reflectors are suspended a foot above the flats. They are kept burning continuously. An air space above them prevents excessive heating.

Below the flats is a space which is heated by a sealed heating unit which fits into an ordinary lighting outlet; or by an infra-red or carbon filament lamp, or by two tungsten lamps connected in series. An electric heating coil may be used. A thermostat of the type used for poultry brooders controls the heat.

Seeds are sown in the flats or trays. For most vegetable and flower plants the minimum temperature should be set at 65 degrees. Water may be supplied by using wicks to draw it from pans below the flats; by setting an empty flower pot in the center of each flat, into which water may be poured to provide subirrigation; or by watering the surface. The second method requires that the flats be lined with waterproof paper to hold the water; and the third requires that excess water be allowed to drain away.

Enclosure of the hot-bed helps keep both heat and humidity even. There is no objection to mixing the fluorescent light with daylight, and the unit may be used in a sunparlor, and opened during the day to allow daylight to supplement the lamps.

When vermiculite is used to fill the flats, or trays, a layer of sphagnum moss passed through a sieve should be placed on top, and the seed sown in this, and covered with more moss. The sterile substance will prevent destruction of the seedlings by damping off and similar diseases.

The indoor hot-bed not only saves the gardener from the discomfort of managing an outdoor bed in the cold weather, but insures the plants adequate light, and an even temperature. Once the management of the bed is learned, it will need attention only for occasional watering and ventilation.

WYOMING PICNIC

The president of the Wyoming State Society, Miss Anna Blood, announces the all-day, mid-winter reunion of "Wyomingites" March 3rd, in Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles.

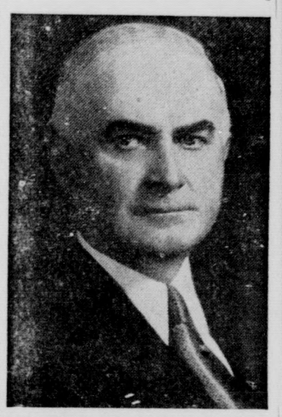
A general get-to-gether for fellowship, reunion and reminiscence, rather than a stated program, will be the order of the day. Coffee, badges and registers at hand. The public is cordially invited.

NEBRASKA PICNIC

The big winter Nebraska Picnic will be held in Bixby Park, Long Beach, Saturday, February 23rd.

The Long Beach Municipal Band will play at 1 o'clock. Rev. H. H. Heberly, formerly of Lincoln, will be the speaker. City Councilman Burton Chace, Nebraska-born, will welcome the Cornhuskers. Mrs. Eugene Tincher, solist. J. B. Chapman will lead community singing with Lulu Petty Opp, pianist; they know the smell of Golden-Rod. The Accordion-Four will delight you. Judge M. M. Wildman of York will tell how to stay young. Mrs. Eliza J. Maheu, 75, of Chadron will show how they danced in the Gay-Nineties. Ernest Stoffin, caterer. Badges, coffee, registration by counties. Meet friends and make new ones. Paul S. Dietrick, President.

Duties Expanded



F. H. Knickerbocker, executive assistant to Union Pacific President George F Ashby, has been named ranking executive over all far western territory of the railroad including Southern California.

Harry L. Hopkins, F. D. R.'s closest friend was either hated or loved, there seemed to be no medium in public opinion toward him. And yet this son of an Iowa blacksmith went a long way in formulating American policies during a critical period in our history. Ninety per cent of his critics will never rate the high praise given him by the great leaders of the period in which he played such an important role.

EAST

Many thousands of men in uniform have yet to be returned home from the Pacific theatre. That's Union Pacific's first and most important job.

But if you're planning a trip to the East, don't give up the idea. It's worth waiting for. And travel conditions are improving, day by day.

Start your vacation with relaxation. Enjoy "smooth sailing" on a fast Streamliner . . . a world of comfort on a modernly-appointed Limited. Or choose the Challenger—famous for low-cost travel enjoyment.

Your Journey by rail will be the high-spot of your vacation or business trip.

Ask about "stop overs" at various interesting points enroute to or from your eastern destination. Union Pacific serves more western scenic regions than any other railroad—the world's greatest travel bargain.

Folks keep asking about those new Chevron signs

And those questions are music to our ears—because we want you to know all about 'em. You see, lots of people appreciate the careful, friendly service they get at independent stations but they don't always know they are "home-owned." So those new Chevron Signs and the distinctive burgundy, cream and green paint jobs on our stations mean that we're independent business-men in the community.

It's mighty important to us that our customers get the finest—so you can be sure we'll continue to handle products like Chevron Supreme Gasoline and RPM Motor Oil. Our services and accessories will be the same high quality, too.

Chevron Gas Stations will always honor Standard of California's National Credit Cards, too. If you haven't applied for one yet, we'll be glad to take your application any time.

REMEMBER...the same products, the same service, the same folks to serve you

WELL, IT'S ALL OVER

The Civil War has finally ended.

The community of Town Line, N.Y., after flying the Confederate flag for 84 years has acknowledged that the South has been beaten and so the village has come back into the Union.

At the special election recently held to determine its status, 89 residents of Town Line voted to haul down the Stars and Bars of the Confederacy but 23 diehards held out against "them damned Yankees."

There was no shootin' on election day and so far as we know the 23 "Southerners" don't plan to "secede" from Town Line.

OPENING NEW STORE

Andrew Dury of Dury Slacks Tailoring, Monrovia, announces the opening of another store in March at 4724 Lankersheim Boulevard, North Hollywood. This will be the second of six slacks tailoring stores Mr. Dury will have in operation by the end of the year.

NEW STARS ON THE FLAG?

If either Hawaii or Alaska comes into the Union it will mean that a 49th star will have been added to "Old Glory."

Reports from Washington indicate that there is considerable talk as to where that star would be placed. The present 48 stars make a square with eight stars across and six down. If one more were added the stars could be rearranged in rows of seven each way. What happens, though, if both Hawaii and Alaska come in? How would we arrange 50 stars?

Time was when the flag was changed so often that flag designers had plenty of practice. But it has now been 34 years since the last "remodeling" and the designers have grown rather rusty.

Of one thing we can be sure, however, that if and when we have 49 or 50 States we'll have that many stars—even though Betsy Ross won't be on hand to lend her assistance in arranging them.

Serious increase in traffic accidents is shown in a release to the National Automobile Club from the State Department of Motor Vehicles. In comparing the month of November, 1945, with the similar period of one year ago an increase in fatal and injury accidents of 69 per cent is noted. The reports show an 81.4 per cent increase in persons injured and a 40.8 per cent increase in persons killed. In view of the rapid increase in traffic accidents, the Department of Motor Vehicles states that it is seeking to have its Patrol units in the various counties encourage the formation of safety councils on a county-wide basis by interesting public agencies, civic, fraternal and patriotic organizations in the problem.

A survey showed that workers over 40 are more dependable and absent less, but why do they make a survey when everybody with gumption knows it?

POLICE BLOTTER

Call came from Mrs. Nosher 265 N. Mt. Trail, reports a man down on the sidewalk. An elderly man unable to make the grade was assisted by Officer Embree to his home. . . Water pipe springs a leak in E. Montecito. Ben Mobley at the water works calls out the gang. . . A car going one way and then the other causes investigation. . . Officer Woodrow Wilson reports "foot patrol" all O.K. . . A car in the middle of the boulevard interests Councilman Froehlich, who wants to know why. It was driverless, but when Officer Embree arrived, the car had "taken off." . . . Young lady lost a bracelet made of small trinkets, including three blind mice, a heart and a pool table. Perhaps the blind mice stole away to have a game of pool. . . A young puppy runs in front of a car. It later died. . . Officer Woodrow Wilson denies that the animal was a puppy. He declares it was a black cat. He should know, he had to pick up the pieces. . . A dog on Hermosa that had been barking for an hour, wouldn't bark in order to be located. . . An inebriated woman trying to get a car out of the garage was hindered before she succeeded. That was surely a "good stop." . . . A report of an erroneous A.W.O.L. was corrected before too much was done about it. . . A pack of hounds at the school grounds gets Heasley and Embree out with their lassoes. "Hi" is fairly good at this and two dogs were roped on the first try. Another pack running wild annoyed the neighborhood of Ramona and Park. Town is not such a hot place to keep a dog. They are bound to get out and disturb your neighbor. . . Five young men, one of whom was a local boy and the driver of the car, were rounded up for acting as "cops" along Santa Anita Rd., where they would approach a car and demand that the car "pull over." Little did these foolish youngsters realize that they came mighty close to being shot by one of their victims. . . A kiddie car at the cemetery. It must have "gone under," the coppers couldn't find it. . . Shooting of a .22 rifle brings a citation. . . A red airplane stunting too close to the ground is turned in to officials. . . Boy bitten by a dog. . . . A "tall" man messing around a car. . . Too many chickens in too small a place. . . Cats left after people moved away. . . A jalopy runs into a fence. Owner leaves it there. . . When Fred Lewis was on duty as fireman one evening this week, he was called to put out a fire at the old house west of the Sierra Madre Hotel. According to the story of "Woody" Wilson, Fred must have done a good job. "Never Miss Lewis" they call 'im. . . Three-year-old girl takes a walk—alone. She is returned to her mama safe and solid. Mama is pleased to have her.
